

NOW HIRING!

Health Officer

for Kitsap County, Washington

The Kitsap Public Health District is seeking a health officer to champion health solutions for a vibrant community on the shores of Puget Sound. Our health officer collaborates with a team of more than 100 public health professionals and numerous community partners to promote a safe and healthy Kitsap County for all. Learn more at kitsappublichealth.org/healthofficer

POSITION DETAILS

Qualifications include:

- Doctor of Medicine or Osteopathy
- Master's in Public Health or equivalent
- License to practice medicine in Washington state
- DEA registration for prescription of controlled substances.
- See RCW 70.05.050 for full position requirements

Apply now!

An initial review of applications is scheduled for Jan. 12.

For a full job posting and application, go to:
kitsappublichealth.org/healthofficer

Questions?

Call 360-728-2294 or email
hr.manager@kitsappublichealth.org

Help our community thrive

Under Washington state law, a local health officer is a medical doctor and public health expert tasked with controlling and preventing diseases, enforcing public health rules, and promoting public health.

Appointed by the Kitsap Public Health Board, and under the direction of the Health District's Administrator, our health officer applies professional expertise and innovative leadership to address complex health issues in a rapidly changing environment.

View the full job posting and learn more about the Kitsap Public Health District at kitsappublichealth.org/healthofficer.

LIFE ON THE KITSAP PENINSULA

Balanced between the wilderness of the Olympic Peninsula and the metropolitan bustle of Seattle, the Kitsap Peninsula offers an unparalleled quality of life. Kitsap residents enjoy easy access to miles of saltwater shoreline, while city amenities are minutes away.

Kitsap at a glance

Population: 280,717

Cities: Bainbridge Island, Bremerton, Port Orchard, Poulsbo

Median home price:
$550,000

Fast ferry to Seattle:
30 minutes

A vibrant community ...

Kitsap County is situated on traditional territory of the S'Klallam and Suquamish peoples, whose ancestors flourished in the region long before the arrival of European settlers.

From the rich culture of the tribes, to Bremerton's Navy heritage, Poulsbo's Nordic roots, and Bainbridge Island's eclectic arts scene, a collection of distinct enclaves make up the fabric of our peninsula community.

"It's rare to find a job where you can see your work have a direct and lasting impact on the health and wellbeing of people in your community. This is that job."

Yolanda Fong
Administrator
Kitsap Public Health District

where adventure abounds

Kitsap residents don't travel far for outdoor fun. A paddle on Puget Sound, a ski adventure at Snoqualmie Pass or a trek through the Olympic Mountains are all within a day's reach.

When city life beckons, world-class dining, performing arts venues and professional sporting events are a ferry ride away in Seattle. Learn more at visitkitsap.com.